

Jeffrey Stohlberg
Director of Benefits
Moderna

Jeffrey Stohlberg is the Director of Benefits at Moderna, headquartered in Kendall Square, Cambridge, MA. In this role, Jeff leads initiatives focused on enhancing health, retirement, and well-being benefits, supporting the overall wellness of Moderna's employees. A forward-thinking leader, Jeffrey has spearheaded the development of a Benefits Assistant utilizing mChat and ChatGPT, leveraging technology to streamline benefits processes and improve the employee experience.

Beyond his primary responsibilities, Jeffrey is an active leader within the company, serving as the co-chair of Moderna's Rainbow Alliance Employee Resource Group (ERG) and a member of the ERG leadership team, advocating for diversity, equity, and inclusion in the workplace.

In addition to his work at Moderna, Jeff is an engaged industry leader. He serves on the Customer Advisory Boards (CAB) for Blue Cross Blue Shield (BCBS), Fidelity Investments, and the Hartford, where he contributes to shaping innovative benefits programs and strategies. His collaborative approach and commitment to employee well-being have made him a key figure in both his organization and the broader benefits community.

Outside of work, you can find Jeff on a tennis court or running along the ocean in South Boston, enjoying the beauty of the city.